Dates are June 11-16; website is www.anglicanlegacycamp.com. “Anglican Legacy Camp is a place where campers ages 8 to 15 build character and values while forging their Anglican beliefs. The Anglican Legacy Campers learn responsibility and cooperation, while gaining independence and confidence. We offer many popular summer activities for boys and girls so there is something for everyone! Our dynamic group of clergy and laity adult counselors serve as positive role models while encouraging and caring for each camper. Our ratio of counselors to campers helps assure that we provide each camper with individualized attention.” See Jessica and Jim Gray, whose son, James has attended this camp for two years, for more information.
